

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT ARLINGTON
AND
JARVIS CHRISTIAN COLLEGE
PERTAINING TO A PRE-ENGINEERING PROGRAM
AT JARVIS CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

February 6, 1990

The purpose of this agreement is to establish and maintain a strong working relationship between the College of Engineering at The University of Texas at Arlington (UTA) and the Division of Science and Mathematics of Jarvis Christian College (Jarvis). Specifically, the agreement officially recognizes the establishment of a two-year pre-engineering program at Jarvis followed by approximately three additional years at UTA leading toward one of the six engineering degrees offered by UTA. Those students successfully completing this program of study will be awarded baccalaureate degrees from both institutions. The agreement also addresses issues of student counseling and publicity designed to encourage more Jarvis students to major in engineering and to optimize the scheduling of their courses so that an orderly transition between the two institutions can be achieved.

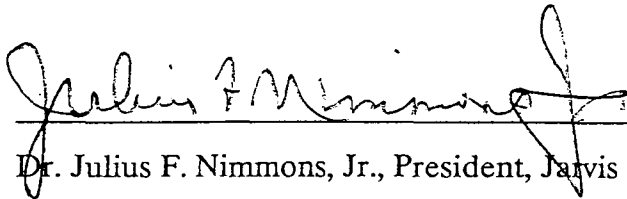

This agreement recognizes the following conditions, limitations, and responsibilities of both of the colleges:

1. UTA will expect pre-engineering students enrolled at Jarvis to maintain the same minimal grade point averages required of engineering students enrolled at UTA in order to be considered in good standing.
2. Jarvis pre-engineering students in good standing will be accepted as pre-engineering majors upon their transfer to UTA.
3. Curriculum coordination and maintenance of updated transfer equivalency lists will be the responsibility of UTA. If appropriate, courses offered by other institutions located in the vicinity of Hawkins may be approved by UTA as substitutions for critical pre-engineering courses not readily available at Jarvis.
4. The program will be referred to as the Jarvis-UTA Cooperative Program in Engineering at Jarvis Christian College.
5. The College of Engineering at UTA will provide recommendations for the program. Jarvis will have the primary responsibility of promoting the program, but both institutions will have the right to promote and advertise the program as a cooperative program at Jarvis and UTA.

6. The success of the program will be monitored by both institutions and may be terminated by either party at any time when said party believes the termination to be in the best interest of those involved.

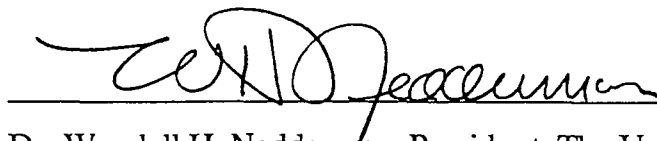

After modifications to this draft, the final document is to be signed by the chief administrators of both institutions.

I. Purpose

The purpose of this agreement is to establish and maintain a cooperative relationship between Jarvis Christian College and the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of North Texas. The inauguration of a joint degree program is aimed at best serving the students who elect this option in their post secondary education. The agreement recognizes the strengths of both academic institutions. As a small, liberal arts college, Jarvis Christian College offers its students a strong foundation in general education through a personalized approach to instruction. The University of North Texas provides specialized professional training which prepares students to begin a career in communications. The planned transition of program participants between institutions will result in high quality educational experiences for the greatest number of students.

II. General Description

The agreement officially recognizes the establishment of a program in mass communications at Jarvis Christian College which culminates with approximately two-years study at the University of North Texas. Students recruited into the program will be admitted to Jarvis Christian College under the admissions guidelines and criteria applicable to all students. Mass Communication majors will be advised by Jarvis faculty members about career options, the Journalism and Radio, Television, Film majors at the University of North Texas, and the specific core courses required by the Jarvis Christian College-University of North Texas agreement. In the fourth semester of study, or during the semester that the student will complete 60 hours of transferable credit, the student will complete application forms and financial aid documents for submission to the University of North Texas. Academic advisors at the University of North Texas will work with the students to select courses which complete the university's core curriculum and course requirements for the major in Journalism or Radio, Television, Film. Both institutions will monitor the student's progress and provide for needed academic support. Upon completion of requirements for a Bachelor of Arts degree in Journalism or Radio, Television, Film at the University of North Texas, both the University of North Texas and Jarvis Christian College will jointly award the student a Bachelor of Arts degree.

III. Responsibilities and Implementation Procedures

1. Coordination and evaluation of the program will be the joint responsibility of the Office of Academic Affairs at Jarvis Christian College and the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of North Texas.
2. Jarvis Christian College has the primary responsibility for advertising the program and recruiting students, although both institutions will have the right to promote and advertise the joint degree program as a cooperative program at Jarvis Christian College and the University of North Texas.

3. University of North Texas faculty will assist the Jarvis Christian College faculty in advising students and presenting orientation sessions.
4. Students must meet the admission criteria for Jarvis Christian College when beginning the program. Students must remain in good academic standing and meet the admission criteria for transfer students before enrolling at the University of North Texas.
5. University of North Texas faculty will monitor the progress of Jarvis Christian College students and provide adequate academic support.
6. The joint baccalaureate studies programs in Journalism and Radio, Television, Film are supported by scholarships from the Hallberg Foundation. Jarvis Christian College will select and administer scholarships for students enrolled in the joint degree program while they are students at Jarvis Christian College. Students continuing in the program will be eligible to apply for the scholarship at the University of North Texas.

7. Termination of this agreement may be initiated by either party. Written notice of intent to terminate must be delivered to the other party at least six months prior to the effective date of termination. Students enrolled in the program at the time of termination of this joint agreement will be given the opportunity to complete the program in its entirety.
